SEPTEMBER 7-11 2014

EUROMAL 2014      Preliminary Notice — European Conference of Malacology

Organisation for this meeting is led by Dr David Aldridge on behalf of the Malacological Society of London. It will take place at St Catharine's College, University of Cambridge Sunday 7th September 2014 to Thursday 11th, for 150 people. 130 rooms have been reserved comprising approximately 50 en- suite and 80 standard. There should eventually be a conference portal on the College website for room bookings. There are no double rooms, so those bringing partners will need to find alternative places to stay. There will be provision for about 60 posters, which could be permanently in place.
